A Mississippi eloping couple missed being married by ten seconds. Officers rushed in after the promises had been made and the preacher had opened his mouth to say "I now pronounce you man and wife."

Mt. Etna, on the island of Sicily, is again in a state of eruption and the people are fleeing in terror from the danger zone.

Many ministers in the large cities preached on the Astor Place wedding Sunday, Father Fulton, of Chicago, used this vigorous language:

"Like the cuckoo, which lays its eggs in another bird's nest, the priest declare, the young girls who corra well-to-do married men are commercial vampires who rob the rightful owner of her nest.

"What is the woman who makes merchandise of herself but a human monster?" he asks. Beattie murdered his wife. Better man should kill an innocent wife than immolate her in the divorce court. Beattie was merciful to his young wife.

"The 'other woman' is typical of the woman in every divorce case.
She is a muderess. She is a commercial vampire, who in cold blood enters the sanctuary of a happy home and drives out the wife to despair and death."

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common.
Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints,

A Fierce Night Alarm is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup.

Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear.
We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others.

Are They Married?

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 11—Whether a groom is entitled to his bride without practically all of the ceremony performed, except the formal "I now pronounce you man and wife" feature of the service, will be thrashed out in the local court tomorrow as the result of an interrupted wedding today when wealthy parents of Miss Effie Mc-Minn from Sardis, Miss., caused the detention of their daughter by officers of the juvenile court.

Jess Lee Varner, the groom, eloped from the plantation of the young girl's parents early today.
They advised with Circuit Judge Malone on arrival here, and a license was issued. The ceremony had all been said with the exception of pronouncing them man and wife.
Then the officers appeared, accompanied by the parent of the bride.

The groom applied for habeas corpus proceedings, which will be heard tomorrow.

ing dead at the first shot. There

"Tom Ver Seek."

Ontario, Cal.—"Tom," a Hindu laborer employed in an orange grove here, failed to show up for work yesterday, and the only information that the foreman could obtain was that "Tom ver seek." Then it was discovered that "Tom" was the mother of a three day-old baby, born since the gang quit work Saturday.
The foreman's discovery led to the disclosure that many Hindu women work in men's clothes when they can deceive the foreman. They are nearly as large and strong as the men and are not greatly unlike them in physique.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA*HE DIDN'T LIKE THE PUFFS

Street Car Passenger's Explanation of His Refusal to Give His Seat to Woman.

A young woman entered the car and a man near the door started mechanically to give her his seat. Then he looked at her, changed his mind and settled back, leaving her to stand.

His companion smiled. "Think she looks able to stand, eh? Suffragette, perhaps?"

"No, it isn't that. It's those infernal puffs. I'll be—blamed if I'll give up my seat to a woman who has no better sense than to go around with a hair mattress on her head. I have some respect for a suffragette who wears her own hair, but absolutely none for puffs and rats and other falsities that some women seem to think make them look better. They don't. Every woman can find some way of dressing her own hair which is becoming to her. Rats and false hair are, to me, an evidence of non-intelligence. I like to be chivalrous toward a woman who is worthy of the name, but a woman discredits her sex with such monstrosities as that girl carries on her head. She can't be neat. The process itself is not neat. If she were a South African I might not expect anything better of her, but of an American girl I do. No, perhaps I can't do much toward reforming the sex, but at least I have the satisfaction of showing my disapproval.

Who Was There That You Knew

In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to buy the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Ravinor or Ravinor, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs.
It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.
